Sideboard Surprises.

It's at this time of the year that we usually inaugurate our semi-annual Furniture Clearance Sale, with all its attendant bargains. This season the program is changed, and instead of taking all the goods at once we're taking each line separately and unloading the surplus goods in these lines one at a time. We can afford to make the cuts even bigger than usual in this way. It requires less men and less advertising, and really puts additional money in the purchaser's pocket.

3 styles of the celebrated "Pasteur" water filter reduced.

That every family in Washington may own a "Pasteur" water filter—the acknowledged best—and the only absolutely germ-proof filter to be had—the manufacturers have reduced the prices of the three most popular styles—from a third to almost half of what they were formerly.

This reduction is especially apropos as the water is exceedingly muddy and necessarily full of disease germs. The "Pasteur" removes every possible particle, clarifying it perfectly. It is the only filter that is indorsed by the leading bacteriologists, including George M. Sternberg, surgeon general of the United States army.

AFFAIRS IN GEORGETOWN

A Grand Sight When the Ice Moved Out of the River.

Many Enjoyed the Scene Presented—The Grip Disappearing From the Town.

A pretty sight was enjoyed yesterday by many people who happened to be on the Aqueduct bridge or along the water front. The ice which has bound navigation in this section for several weeks, under the influence of the recent rains and the mild weather broke loose and drifted down the stream. Large floes of ice were thus carried down, and the ever-changing picture was admitted by those who were fortunate enough to see it. The wind was from the northwest, and assisted to carry the ice down stream, while the current, which was running about two miles an hour, did the rest.

By many it was expected that the current would be much swifter, and the property owners along the river front breathed a sigh of relief. No loss of property has as yet been reported, and it is predicted that there will be no high water of any consequence to do any damage. The water at present is slightly above normal, but the rise that is expected to come is not sufficient. It is thought, to cause an overflow at this place. The breaking of the ice extended nearly as far up as Great Falls, and no word has been received from the upper Potomac in regard to the condition of the river. It is presumed to be normal; otherwise word would have been sent down to notify and protect the property owners along the water front. The breaking of the ice with the rain of last week and the mild weather, the breaking of the ice on the river would be attended by a flood, but this does not seem probable at present.

A miniature ice gorge has been formed at the piers of the Aqueduct bridge, which it is thought reaches down to the bottom of the river. The gorge takes in the entire District side of the stream, commencing at the coffer dam at pier No. 4 and extending to the shore. The breaking of the ice, however, has not opened the river, but the open other half of the river prevents the water rising to any height, though the breaking of the ice was held on, increasing the size of the gorge. It will prove a comparatively easy matter to dislodge the ice if any danger is threatened.

The Grip Going Away.

The epidemic of grip in this section of the city is thought to have passed. At least, a number of well-known physicians say so, and very few new cases have been reported. This is regarded as extremely gratifying, though there are some cases now on hand in which the condition of the patients is regarded as serious. The epidemic has been regarded as worse than the previous attack of several years ago. The malady has been more malignant and its effects have been far more serious. The victims this year in most cases have been left in an extremely nervous condition, so a well-known physician informed The Star reporter this forenoon, and the number of cases of relapse have been larger than ever before, owing to the fact that the patients prematurely exposed themselves. As it is, there have been comparatively few deaths, considering the extent of the epidemic, and as the weather opens up the cases are expected to disappear almost entirely. For a time all of the physicians on this side of Rock creek had their hands full attending to the many people afflicted with the malady.

Death of Alfred J. Warwick.

Mr. Alfred J. Warwick, a well-known young man of this place, died Saturday at his brother's residence, 1235 37th street, after an illness of some days. The deceased was about thirty years of age and a son of the late James L. Warwick, who died a few years ago, and who was one of the veteran police officers. The young man enjoyed a large circle of acquaintances, and his disposition and ways made him many friends. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock from his brother's residence.

In the Churches.

The revival services at the Dumbarton Avenue M. E. Church, which have been so well attended during the past week, will be continued all of this week, with the exception of Monday and Saturday evenings. Rev. A. H. Zimmerman is assisting the pastor, Rev. Dr. J. B. Stitt, in the work. Mr. William E. Middleton of 1517 24th street, the organist at St. John's Church, is confined to his home because of sickness. His place at the organ at the services yesterday was filled by the assistant organist, Mr. Charles Cropley.

Supposed to Be Insane.

Augustine Weaver, a young white man, whose age was given as twenty-six years, was arrested Saturday morning shortly before 7 o'clock by Policeman Birkitt and given a berth at the station house on a charge of insanity. The young man is the son of Admiral Weaver of 25th and N streets, and he was arrested upon the complaint of the father. The son had been acting queerly of late, and his parent was afraid that he would injure himself in some way or commit suicide. After being in the station house for several hours he was conveyed to St. Elizabeth's Asylum, where he will be temporarily confined and treated.

Taking an Outing.

The splendid weather of yesterday brought out large crowds who enjoyed an outing in the spring-like weather. An unusually large number of people passed through Georgetown for out-of-town places, giving the appearance of spring. The suburban railroads did the best business of any day so far this year. The number of bicyclists was also very large, and a good number of cyclists took spins out on the Conduit road. While the Capital road was closed in the best of condition for cycling, the Conduit was in its usual good condition despite the rain of the day before.

Notes.

Mr. John Archer, the well-known provision dealer, is lying seriously ill at his residence on 22d street, being confined to his room ever since the recent death of his daughter.

The condition of Mr. Edward Bangs of 3148 Dumbarton avenue is reported as being improved.

The funeral of Capt. Charles Bendire, who died last Thursday at Jacksonville, Fla., at the age of sixty years, was held this afternoon, the interment being at Arlington National cemetery.

Dr. George M. Schorhan has sold to Louisa S. and George N. Beale lots 17 and 18, in square 1207, the consideration being unnamed.

There is a dangerous hole reported by the police in the sidewalk at the northeast corner of 3rd and M streets.

Policeman J. L. Giles, on duty at Tenleytown, Saturday received the news of the death of his brother, which occurred suddenly during the day at his home in the Shenandoah valley in West Virginia. The deceased was formerly a resident of Tenleytown.

OFFICERS DISMISSED.

Foley and Evans No Longer on the Force.

The Commissioners today dismissed from the police force Michael A. Foley and Charles A. Evans, officers of the eighth precinct. This is the result of the arrest of these officers in a house of ill-fame some time ago upon sensational charges. The officers made a hard fight to prove their innocence, one putting up the novel defense that he was not responsible for what he did, as he was under the effects of an opiate which had been administered by his physician for illness. The trial board, after an exhaustive review of the cases, recommended that they be dismissed from the force, and the Commissioners, after going over the testimony, approved the recommendation today.

Marriage Licenses.
Marriage licenses have been issued to the following:
White—Frank W. Hart and Mary E. Saunders; Robert W. Owens of Baltimore, Md., and Mary G. Siskard of this city.
Colored—Charles H. H. Brown and Milleva Beckett.
